ON EAGLES' WINGS

Dear Parents,

Our fourth grade teacher, Mrs. Klein, had successful hip replacement surgery this past Friday and is now at home recovering. I want to thank all of you who supported her with help and your prayers. We thank God that she is doing well and can return to a more normal life soon.

This past week has been Science Week at St. John's. It is a week that our school and classes focus on science presentations and projects to help students learn the tremendous gift of how God created our world to work. It also helps us to focus on the scientific method and how students can better problem solve. I want to thank Debbie Stanhope for her help in organizing the events of this week!

As you know we have had a couple of faculty in-service days in the past two weeks. Last Friday our faculty went to a very valuable in-service that focused on the latest brain research and how it effects our instruction and student learning. Tomorrow, our faculty and staff will be receiving training on a new web based school management and communication system that we are implementing next school year. You will hear more on this in the coming weeks.

Next Saturday is our annual Country Fair! Please remember that we expect parents to be supportive of this important all school fellowship event. I appreciate the hard work and leadership of so many parents that help make this event possible. The goal of the Country Fair is not only to raise funds for the school, but it is also our biggest fellowship event of the year. Be sure to come, help out, and enjoy the fun and fellowship!

In Christ,
Joel D. Wahlers
Principal
